

Company: TwoTwelve Associates

Role: Wayfinding and Information Designers

Two Twelve is a graphic design firm that seeks sustainable solutions to problems of wayfinding, information, and visioning. We have practiced a special communications discipline that we refer to as “public information design” since 1980. Whether we are creating a wayfinding system, graphic identity, or publication, our objective is to provide accessible, user-centered design to organizations that communicate with wide cross-sections of the public.
